

The Faculty of Law, The University of Haifa

Call for applications for a tenure-track position (Open Rank)

The Faculty of Law at the University of Haifa seeks to fill one or more tenure-track positions, starting in October 2022 or later. This search is open to all sub-fields of law. Junior and senior scholars are encouraged to apply.

The faculty seeks scholars with demonstrated research excellence, an international profile, and commitment to teaching and to academic leadership, for an appointment as Assistant/Associate or Full Professor. Absent exceptional circumstances, an LL.B. or J.D., as well as an J.S.D. / S.J.D. / Ph.D. degree are required. Candidates are expected to demonstrate an outstanding academic record, as well as demonstrate the potential to contribute to one of Israel's top law schools. The faculty also encourages those candidates with a record of interdisciplinary research and knowledge of diverse cutting-edge research methods to apply.

The successful applicant will be expected to establish a highly productive research agenda, engage in the faculty's rich curricula for both LL.B. and LL.M degrees, supervise doctoral students, and take an active role in the faculty's renowned research centers. Command of Hebrew, if does not exist, will need to be acquired within a few years of arrival.

About our faculty: The Haifa law faculty is the youngest and most vibrant amongst Israel's top law faculties. The faculty is committed to teaching and researching law in a changing world, focusing on such areas as law and technology, law and health and law and society across a wide array of core legal domains. The faculty is known for its warm and collegial atmosphere and is located in one of the most beautiful and diverse places in Israel. The faculty is expected to move to its new building, overlooking the scenic views from Mt. Carmel, in the academic year of 2023.

More information about the faculty can be found at: <http://law.haifa.ac.il/index.php/en/home>.

Application procedure: All applicants should email the following documents to the Dean: (1) cover letter, (2) CV, (3) names of four referees, (4) future research plans and potential courses, to marazi@univ.haifa.ac.il with the title "Application for Faculty Position."

The deadline for applications is October 1, 2021. The faculty may choose to consider additional nominations after that date at its discretion and may choose not to recruit any of the candidates. The decision of the faculty is subject to the approval of the University of Haifa Rector.

The University of Haifa hires on the basis of merit and is committed to diversity and equality.
